

"Tapped", by Stephanie Soechtig

Screened on 22 March 2011

Runtime: 76'

Is access to clean drinking water a basic human right, or a commodity that should be bought like any other? Stephanie Soechtig's documentary Tapped is an unflinching examination of the big business of bottled water. From Tapped illustrates the undeniable fact that bottled water is more of a behavioural issue than a necessity.

The film was followed by a Q & A session with Thierry Lucas (United Nations Environment Programme).
