

"Planet Ocean", by Yann Arthus-Bertrand

Screened on 26 June, 2012

Runtime: 90'

Planet Ocean is a plea sent to mankind to respect the world in which we live.

With breathtaking aerial images, directed by Yann Arthus-Bertrand, and the award-winning underwater cinematography of Michael Pitiot, the film is a powerful call to action.

Co-written by Michael Pitiot, together with a unique team of scientists, oceanographers and biologists, the film provides a comprehensive look at the world's oceans and the impact of human activity on marine life.

The film was followed by a Q&A with Yann Arthus-Bertrand.
